F. SCOTT KENNEDY

Scott started out as a small town photographer and has grown into one of the most requested wedding photographers both nationally and internationally photographing a limit of only 24 weddings a year. Kennedy Int. Studios is an international company that is ready to service your wedding needs anywhere in the country or abroad. From the Florida coast line to the rocky shores of Italy, we will be there to capture the essence of your special day! When you choose your wedding photographer, you are not just buying a service, you are investing in memories.

Quote: "Photography to me is something much more than just a picture to sell. Though very technical in nature, photography becomes artistic media, opening a window to the artists interpretation of the world. Through my lens I can reveal to others the beauty that they often overlook or never knew was there. There is no better emotion than to see someone look at your work and connect with your vision".

F. Scott Kennedy.

Scott began taking pictures at a young age and developed a strong bond with travel. After Scott trained under acclaimed photographer Bob Joslin, he soon acquired the desire to see new things and recognized the value of artistically preserving on film the places he had been. Over the years his techniques have changed due to the constant modernization of technology and his strong will to take better photos, yet his artistic eye for images remains skillful and simplistic. Scott now lives in Dothan, AL with his amazing wife Jennifer, beautiful little girl, Abbie Kate and a blue eyed baby boy named William.. He has a 4,000 square foot studio and travels the country doing photography & cinematography for weddings and many fortune 500 business as well.

THE DARLING DETAILS...

Every decision you make is a beautiful part of your day. We make sure we capture each and every detail in your day....from the rings to the flowers, the centerpieces to the place cards. Nothing will be missed.

THINGS REMEMBERED...

There are a few things to keep in mind throughout your day.

Make sure to have your makeup artist and hairstylist do a run through before your day so you are able to preview your wedding day look. Make sure to keep in mind that your makeup should be slightly heavier than your daily wear as lighting may diminish the look of your makeup slightly.

Have a friend or personal attendant available throughout the day to help you carry personal items as well as lip gloss, a sewing kit, and tissues. It may also be helpful if your personal attendant is familiar with family members so they can assist in gathering important people for group portraits.

Keep a change of shoes in case your feet get sore or to wear for the reception and dance.

Have food and clear beverages for the wedding party as the day can get long and you want to keep everyone energized and hydrated.

Remember that the energy you give to your photographer is the energy that will translate to your wedding images. We can only photograph what is placed before us, so leave the worry behind and enjoy the day with a smile on your face.

WE ARE GATHERED HERE TOGETHER...

Your bridal party is a group of your most cherished friends and family members. It is important to capture the relationships you have spent years building. This may also be a rare moment that families come together to celebrate. We are here to capture all your group portraits and show your unique bonds so share your fun side during shoots.

THE CHERISHED MOMENT AND THE EPIC IMAGE...

Very often we hear our couples tell us that they would love their wedding day to be a collection of moments, simply captured throughout their day. Although we strive to be fully present and fully aware of each fleeting moment of your day and to photograph each one of those moments, we also want each of our couples to be aware that many of our best images, those brilliant beautiful grand images, are often a result of planning and creativity rather than a fleeting moment that happens organically. We want to make sure that we are given the time and freedom to create those images for you as well.
